G-Tower

IFEZ (Incheon Free Economic Zone) is designated to be the hub for the government's strategy of building the economic center of Northeast Asia. G-Tower is a landmark located at Central Park in 'Song-Do International City', Incheon.

The terrace 'Sky Garden' on the 29th floor offers a bird's eye view over the international business zone in Song-Do, and the promotion hall is set on the 33rd floor to show the performance of the IFEZ plan.

Gyeong-Bok-Gung Palace

It was built in 1395, three years after the Joseon Dynasty was founded. The Palace was named Gyeong-Bok-Gung Palace, which means the "Palace Greatly Blessed by Heaven."

With Mount Bugaksan to its rear and Mount Namsan in the foreground, the site of Gyeong-Bok-Gung Palace was at the heart of Seoul. Today, the palace is regarded as the most beautiful and biggest palace in Seoul.

CLIMATE

The Republic of Korea lies in the temperate zone with four distinct seasons. Geographically, it is located in the middle latitudes of the Northern Hemisphere, on the east coast of the Eurasian Continent and also adjacent to the Western Pacific. It shows, therefore complex climate characteristics which reveal both continental and oceanic features. It has a wide temperature difference between summer and winter and much precipitation in comparison with that of the Continent.

During the GICC 2015, temperature is very moderate with average temperature expected to be 10°C

LANGUAGE

The Korean language belongs to the Ural-Altaic language group. Han-geul, the Korean alphabet, is composed of 10 simple vowels and 14 consonants. In 1443, King Sejong promoted the creation of an alphabet for writing that could simply and accurately convey the sounds of the spoken language. Originally known as Hunminjeongeum, or "the correct sounds for the instruction of the people," it is an easy-to-learn phonetic alphabet that enabled the common people to express themselves in writing.

RELIGION

Freedom of religion is fully guaranteed in the Republic of Korea. There are four broad streams of influence: Shamanism, Buddhism, Confucianism, and Christianity.

Christianity has had a large following in Korea since its introduction from the West in the late 18th century. Catholicism and Protestantism have significantly grown under the influence of Europe and the United States. There are also various minor religions based on various combinations of elements from traditional religions.
